Cote Castle

Cote Castle is located in the South-eastern part of the Ben-Gabrial District (Gillam, Spain). The fortress is on a hill facing the eastern part of the town. It was abandoned after 1032 and then used as a strategic point to control the territory. The fortress is surrounded by a moat, which was used for protection. The fortress is situated on a hill, which offers a strategic position to control the surrounding area.

Landscape, territory and settlement in a Medieval Andalusian fortification

Cote Castle is situated in the South-eastern part of the Ben-Gabriel District (Gillam, Spain). The fortress is on a hill facing the eastern part of the town. It was abandoned after 1032 and then used as a strategic point to control the territory. The fortress is surrounded by a moat, which was used for protection. The fortress is situated on a hill, which offers a strategic position to control the surrounding area.

The Islamic castle: Hisn Aqut

In Islamic times, Cote Castle was a permanent castle built from a castle, a fortress and a village outside the walls. Through the recovery process, we can observe a large wall, which was built at the end of the 11th century AD. During this period, Cote Castle was used as a strategic point to control the territory. The fortress is surrounded by a moat, which was used for protection. The fortress is situated on a hill, which offers a strategic position to control the surrounding area.

The history of Cote Castle

The fortress is situated on a hill, which offers a strategic position to control the surrounding area. It was built in the 12th century AD and was abandoned after 1032. The fortress is surrounded by a moat, which was used for protection. The fortress is situated on a hill, which offers a strategic position to control the surrounding area.